SCHOOL BOOKS WILL COME TO POOR CHILDREN

Dr. Kincannon Through the Parent-Teacher Association Provides for Leath Orphanage—Admirable Plan.

The poor children of Memphis whose parents are unable to purchase the new textbooks for them will be provided for under plans that have been formulated by the Parent-Teacher association. The old plan of having the children apply to the Associated Charities, thereby putting them on record and subjecting them to untold embarrassment, is done away with and those at the head of the move believe that great good will be accomplished.

The children of Leath orphanage have been taken care of through the generosity of Dr. A. A. Kincannon. His offer made through the Parent-Teacher association has been accepted and all of the new textbooks necessary for the children of this school will be purchased by the teachers and will be paid for by Dr. Kincannon.

No arrangement has been made to care for the church home children as yet, but efforts are being made to have some man or group of men purchase the necessary books for these children as Dr. Kincannon has done for the Leath orphanage.

Money to purchase the books will be raised by public subscription and on next Monday booths will be established in all of the department stores, hotels and the public requested to give what they can toward this worthy cause. Hardwig Peres, president of the city board of education, and an ardent advocate of free textbooks, has advised the Parent-Teacher association that he will add 10 per cent to the total amount raised for the purchase of schoolbooks. Leaders of the move will endeavor to secure $100 for the purpose, believing that this sum will be ample to care for all the children who are unable to purchase their own books.

Embarrassment Removed.

Under the new plan the pupil will be required to make application to his or her teacher for the books. Each case will be investigated and recommendation for the purchase of the books will be made by the child's teacher, the principal of the school and the community chairman of the Parent-Teacher association. This will be done quietly and the children will not be forced to make public their inability to buy their books. Wherever the cases are found to be worthy the books will be furnished and the identity of the child making application will be known only to the three people.

The new plan is being heartily supported by Mrs. Walter Gray, member of the board of education, and while the plan is entirely disassociated from the work of the board many of its members are lending their co-operation as individuals.

Several donations to the fund have already been made, including one contribution of $50, another of $10, and several of $5 each. Very little difficulty is anticipated in securing the necessary fund and in view of the worthiness of the cause and the fact that it is to be administered solely by the Parent-Teacher association and the books to be purchased only upon recommendation of the teacher and principal, much good is to be accomplished.

AMUSEMENTS

Orpheum.

That a better era of the dance is destined from now on is the opinion of no less an authority than Marion Morgan, dancer which Martin Beck is exponent, director of the Orpheum. The new plan of the Orpheum, which has been shrouded in mystery and suffering so long that now, with a triumph for the American war is an experience of relief and joy will be given in the dance, says Miss Morgan. "All the emotions that thinking human beings have known and felt are expressed in various forms of the dance. This being true, there has never been a time in the history of the world when so many freed and thinking people have had cause for joy, and I believe that devotees of the dance will be multiplied as never before. In my experience with my own companies of classical dancers I have only admitted those whose lives had been as free from sorrow as possible, finding in these girls a joy that lifted it out of the routine of a profession to the lightness and dignity of a pastime."

Loew's Lyceum.

To be shot at three times a day with a regulation army rifle in the hands of a veteran sharpshooter of the Spanish-American war is an experience that most girls wouldn't relish. But it doesn't faze Miss DeAlmer, a pretty French girl, who, with Capt. Frank Leffel, will top the vaudeville bill at Loew's Lyceum, beginning Thursday.

Their act is called "The Bullet-Proof Lady," and is one of the most puzzling ever presented on the stage. Capt. Leffel, standing only a few feet away, apparently fires a bullet through Miss DeAlmer's body. It passes through a pack of cards in front of her and shatters a piece of glass behind her.

"Renewing Acquaintances" is a skit which Ronald and Ward will offer Jack Reddy, comedian, will give character impersonations. Langham and Woods will unroll song songs and stories and Wellington and Sylvia will complete the bill with an eccentric juggling act.

The flip of a coin and the fate of a woman is decided in "Broken Commandments," a powerful photodrama of a woman's experiences at the hands of two men, one of whom is the father of her child.

MANY WILL MISS THIS GOOD FELLOW WHO GETS PROMOTION

Wilbur Davis, who started to work as a carrier on the old Scimitar in 1915, and who has been with the mailing department of The News Scimitar since 1915, and for more than a year manager of city circulation, has joined that colony of News Scimitar men in 1918 Mr. Davis came to The News Scimitar mailing room, and has remained there until the present time.

His ability as a carrier won for him a place in the mailing department of the Morning News in 1913. When that paper was consolidated with The Scimitar in 1915 Mr. Davis came to The News Scimitar mailing room, and has remained there until the present time.

Wilbur Davis will be missed by his associates on every department of The News Scimitar, and many a poor mother and child will also miss him when Christmas time comes around. He was the main "outside man" for the Good-fellows' club. He was a bosom friend of the late William Shaler, superintendent of the mechanical department of The News Scimitar, and greatly assisted that big-hearted Goodfellow in the work of making poor hearts glad around Yuletide. He delivered the first Christmas package for the Goodfellow when they started, and has had charge of the delivery of all the packages sent by them to the needy of Memphis ever since.

theater for the last time today. Miss Ferguson is required in the action to shoot her drunken husband. The scene is one of great dramatic intensity and perhaps the strongest provided by the author, A. E. Mason, in his story. During the filming of this scene Capt. Ballantyne, the husband, a drunken wretch, portrayed by Warner Hand, played his part so well that he was seized by Stella in a dying clutch and all but wrenched her gown from her. Both players were intensely interested in the scene and the ultimate in realism was reached.

Vivian Martin, in "The Third Kiss," will be the star beginning Thursday.

Strand.

The war was responsible for "marriages by proxy." In which another map took part in the ceremony of the bridegroom absent in service. It remains for the piping times of peace and dainty Marguerite Clark to bring forth "Widow by Proxy," which is the little star's newest Paramount-Artcraft picture, now being shown at the Strand theater.

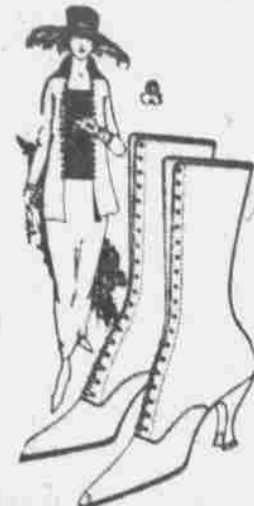

To expound the plot too fully is to destroy for the prospective spectator the clever surprises and startling twists with which it abounds. Suffice it to say that Miss Clark is a vivacious "bachelor girl" who assumes the part of a widowed friend to win for her the legacy she is too proud to accept herself, and strikes all sorts of snags. The ending is unexpected and satisfactory in the extreme. Nigel Barrie is the leading man.

PONTOTOC, Miss., Sept. 17. (Sp.)—Pontotoc welcomed home its soldiers today.

Mayor Patterson declared it a legal holiday and as a consequence all offices and business houses were closed, and everybody had an opportunity to take part in the day's exercises.

The public square presented a festive appearance and was appropriately decorated with the national colors, banners here and there bearing the greeting "welcome." A band from Tupelo furnished martial music. The exercises began at 10 o'clock with a grand parade led by the Confederate veterans in automobiles followed by the soldiers and sailors of the world war, and behind these the Red Cross members.

Returning to the fair grounds a program was given from an improvised stage, beautifully decorated with the Red, White and Blue. Rev. W. M. Young conducted the devotional exercises, except as to the extending of the invitation to dinner, which was done by Mrs. Lee Wilson, chairman of the Red Cross. The right influence and the information which is of vital interest to the daughter imparted at the proper time has not only saved the life but insured the success of many a beautiful girl. Thousands of women residing in every part of the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtues of this medicine, and what it has done for their daughters.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for what it has done for my daughter. She was 15 years of age, very sickly and pale and she had to stay home from school most of the time. She suffered agonies from backache and dizziness and was without appetite. For 3 months she was under the doctor's care and got no better, always complaining about her back and side aching so I did not know what to do. I read in the papers about your wonderful medicine so I made up my mind to try it. She has taken five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and doesn't complain any more with her back and side aching. She has gained in weight and feels much better. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all mothers and daughters."—Mrs. M. F. Foss, 515 Marcy Avenue, Brooklyn, N.Y.
